3M Approved Partners for Fall Protection and Confined Space training

Training is essential for ensuring the safety and competence of anyone who plans, manages, supervises or undertakes work at height or in a confined space.

The training must be delivered professionally and be appropriate for the work being undertaken. It must also be fully compliant with any relevant standards and accredited by the relevant industry organisation.

3M have partnered with some of the UK's leading fall protection and confined space training providers to ensure our customers can continue to receive the appropriate training for 3M equipment.

When making an enquiry or booking any training, make sure to inform the training company that you are a 3M customer. This will ensure the training provided fully meets your requirements and uses the correct equipment.
