

IT'S TIME TO... COMBAT OCCUPATIONAL SKIN DISEASE

The Deb Skin Care Programme

Make Hands Matter in the Workplace

OCCUPATIONAL SKIN DISEASE

AN INVISIBLE THREAT

to Efficiency, Health & Well-being

Occupational skin disease is a serious health issue that currently goes largely unreported in the workplace; an invisible threat that affects both an organisation's efficiency and the health and well-being of its employees.

“ The incidence of occupational skin diseases in Europe may be underestimated by 10 to 50 times. ”

European Dermatology Forum White Book – Skin Disease in Europe

THE RISKS

for Employees & Employers

Risk for Employees

- Sickness absence from work
- Reduced efficiency at work
- Reduced pay
- Lower morale and self-esteem
- In worst cases, change of career

Risk for Employers

- Bad publicity
- Increased cost due to sickness days
- Reduced productivity
- Increased training & recruitment costs
- In worst cases, potential compensation claims

“Occupational skin diseases are among the three most frequent groups of occupational diseases...” World Health Organisation Global Workshop, 2011

“Occupational skin diseases are estimated to cost the EU €600m each year, resulting in around 3m lost working days...and force many workers to change jobs.”

European Agency for Safety and Health at Work, Fact Sheet No.40

“In many instances dermal exposure is the principle route of exposure, especially for chemicals that are relatively non-volatile.”

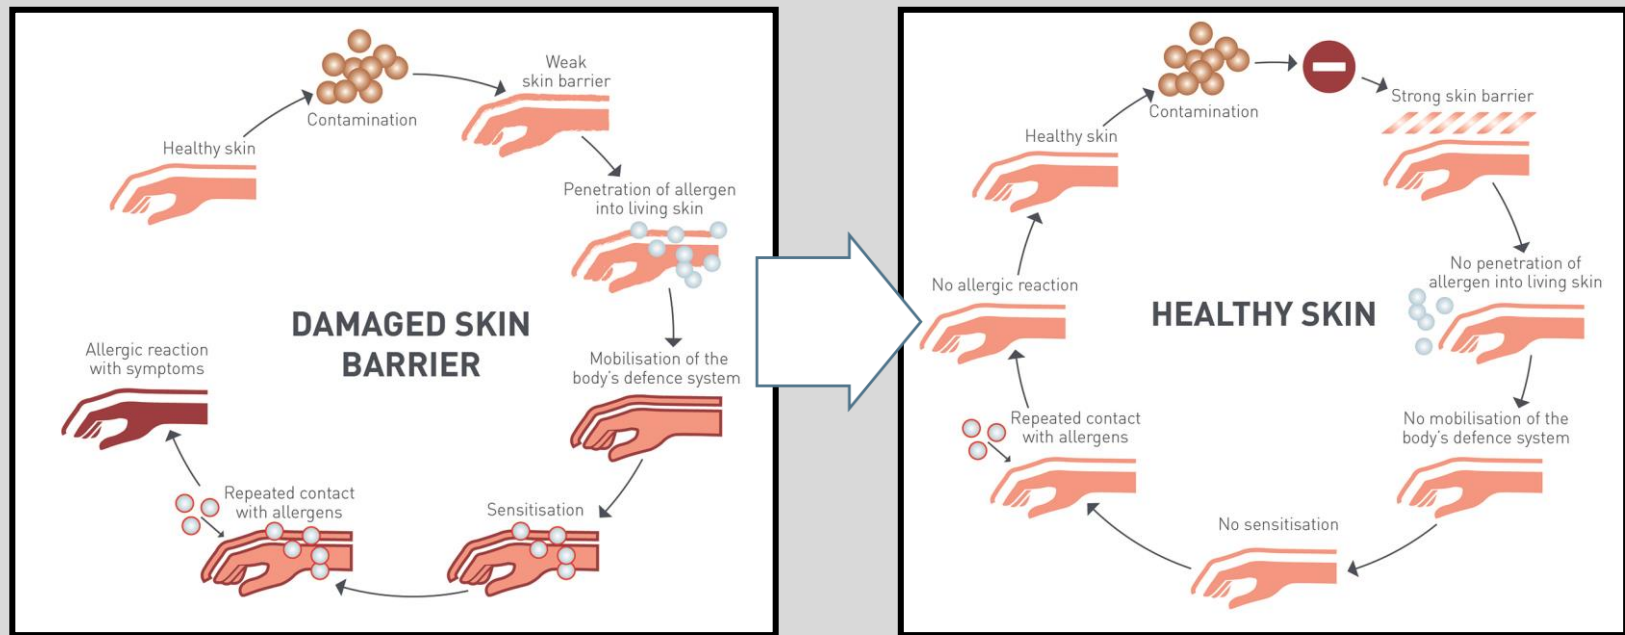

OSHA Technical Manual, Section 11, Chapter 2

“Skin diseases are the second most common work-related health problem in Europe. They represent more than 7% of all occupational illnesses and are one of the most important emerging risks related to the exposure to chemical, physical and biological risk factors.” European Agency for Safety and Health at Work

WHY IS Skin Protection Important?

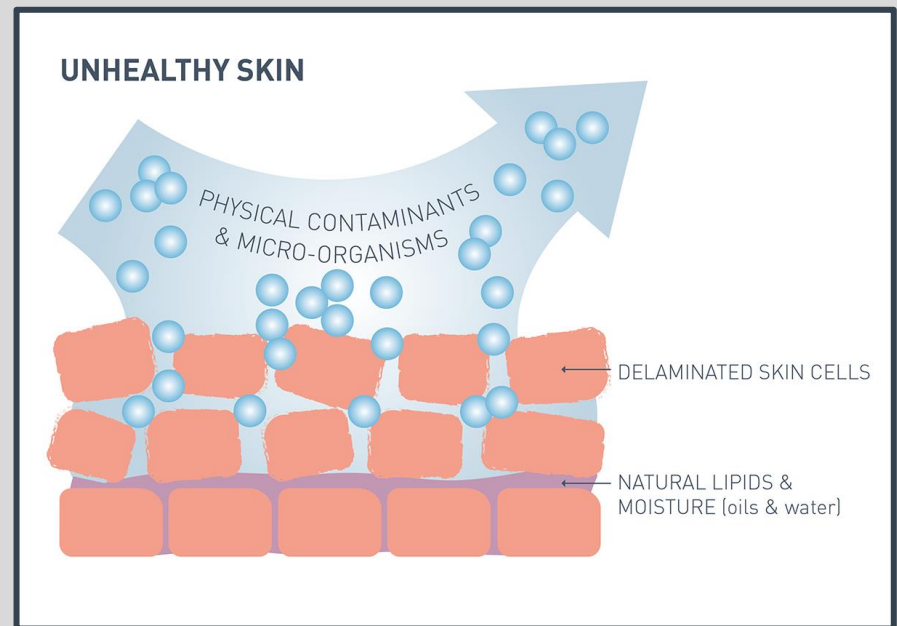

Make Hands Matter in the Workplace

WHAT HAPPENS

When Skin Care Best Practice Is Not Applied?

- Natural lipids and moisture are worn away
- Skin cells start delaminating
- Physical contaminants & micro-organisms enter the skin layers
- If left untreated can lead to infections & skin disease

MAKE HANDS MATTER

in the Workplace

The Deb Skin Care Programme

- Designed to enable Health & Safety Managers to implement skin care practice in the workplace
- Helps to address & reduce the risk of occupational skin disease
- Integrates with broader health & safety programmes

Make Hands Matter in the Workplace

PROTECT CREAMS

What They Do

Protect Creams

Specially formulated for specific applications to leave a protective layer on the surface of the skin.

Make Hands Matter in the Workplace

PROTECT CREAMS

What They Do

- Reduce direct skin contact with specific types of physical contaminants and micro-organisms
- Help retain natural lipids & moisture in the skin whilst working
- Improve comfort and skin strength when wearing PPE
- Protect skin against exposure to UV rays or cold working conditions
- Makes skin quicker and easier to clean with less aggressive cleansers

RESTORE CREAMS

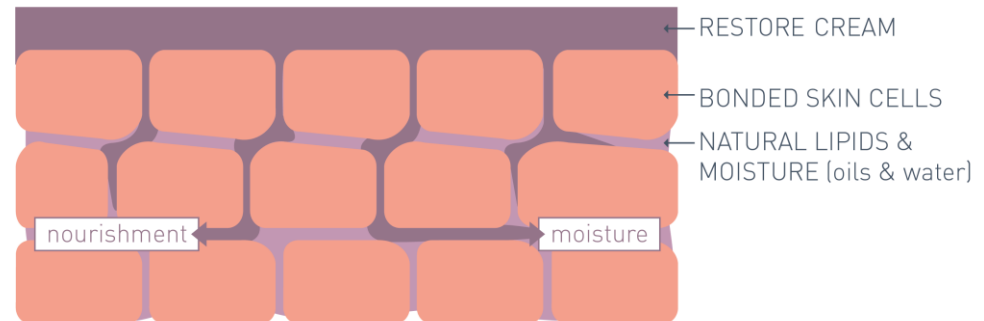

What They Do

Restore Creams

Specially formulated for specific skin conditions to improve skin strength by moisturising, nourishing and conditioning the skin.

HEALTHY SKIN

Make Hands Matter in the Workplace

LOCATION

Availability & Accessibility of Creams

- Ensure that the appropriate products are available & accessible to workers where and when they are required
- The provision of skin care must take into account normal workflows and worker behaviour

It is highly recommended that workers are involved in deciding the type of pack format required & the location of creams to optimise compliance
